A very warm welcome to the third Nine Worlds Geekfest!

As is traditional, we’re bigger and better than ever. We’re covering all kinds of geeky interests, from stories to science to apocalypses to spaceships to social justice and so much more. With well over three hundred sessions, plus social spaces and a games lounge, we’re sure you’ll have a fabulous and busy time.

We always love hearing about your Nine Worlds adventures. Thank you to everyone who has written blog posts, articles, tweets, posts, tagged us on Twitter and on Instagram, and who has said hello in person. We’re looking forward to hearing what you think of this year’s con: let us know @London_Geekfest and using #nineworlds.

We hope you have a wonderful time this year. We invite you to dive in, to explore new fandoms, join conversations, dress up, dance and make friends and learn things and get involved and have big bunches of fun. Thank you for being here!

Be excellent to each other, and party on,

Information

Where to find information
This book contains all the information you’ll need on what’s happening, plus a map so you can find various rooms. Other sources of information include:

· Timetables on each room door
· Printed signs and floor plans around the hotel
· Our friendly volunteers in bright jackets around the hotel, for help and information any time
· Track heads will be wearing bright badges – ask them for information about their track
· Tweet @London_Geekfest with questions
· The Info Desk in the third floor atrium, for pretty much anything any time.

Where to find help
· If you’re having any trouble, or to report an incident, come to the Info Desk in the third floor atrium. There, one of our staff will be able to help you out, and assist you in taking a report further if that’s what you’d like to do. They’ll also have local emergency phone numbers.
· If you need to call the police, we will support you. The Radisson have a good relationship with the local police, so if it can wait a few minutes, speak to one of Nine Worlds’ organisers or the hotel directly and see if you can take it through their channels: it may make things run a bit more smoothly.

Volunteer
Would you like to be a part of what makes Nine Worlds so awesome? We’d love it if you volunteered to join our crew of Stewards, Gophers and Reg Desk Genies! We’re the gang that are always there in the background keeping things running smoothly, and helping Con attendees find their way (and possibly providing a little inspiration for things to see and do!)

We’re looking to recruit con-goers into our team for a few hours at a time, giving you the chance to enjoy Nine Worlds as an attendee, and also experience it as part of the team that makes it happen. If you fancy giving it a go, just come along to the Reg Desk, or say hello to Volunteers HQ, room 35.

Nine Ways To Enjoy

Nine Worlds

1. Be Excellent To Each Other: make sure you’ve read the code of conduct and the photography policy so you don’t accidentally step on folks’ boundaries.

2. Be Excellent To Yourself: cons can be really intense, high-energy experiences. Pace yourself, and make sure you take time out to recharge in the ways that work best for you, be that with a nap, a nice meal, or some time with friends.

3. Try Out New Areas Of Geekdom: Nine Worlds is a great big melting pot of all kinds of fandoms, interests and cool things. It’s likely that your areas of interest will have loads of awesome stuff going on, but remember that this is also a chance to try out something new, with organisers and speakers keen to introduce new people to their favourite things.

4. Get Involved: a great way to meet new people and have a whole lot of geeky fun is to volunteer. Come and chat with Volunteers’ HQ in room 35 to talk about helping out.

5. Arrive On Time: or even a bit early. We’ve got a very busy con this year. Many events will fill up, and you won’t be able to get into everything you want to see. Be prepared with back-up options for each session, and show up early for items you really don’t want to miss.

6. Check Your Photo Boundaries: we’ll be taking lots of photos during the event. If you don’t want to be photographed, please wear a yellow lanyard: you can pick one up at Registration, and our photographers will avoid photographing people wearing yellow lanyards.

7. Discuss: we’re having lots of complicated conversations here - that’s what makes the con interesting! It’s totally okay to politely disagree: just please be respectful and kind, and assume good faith in others, okay?

8. Know Where To Find Help: you can ask any of our volunteers wearing hi-vis vests or Staff badges for help, anytime. You can also speak to people on the info desk; or, out of hours, the hotel desk is open. You can also tweet us @London_Geekfest with questions, or the access team on @9WAccess.

9. Meet New People: many people at conventions are keen to chat with strangers and make new friends - you might like to strike up a conversation by asking about their cosplay or their fandoms. You can check others’ boundaries by seeing if they’re wearing a communication preference badge!
There are quite a few food options in the area. We recommend phoning places first if you need to ask specific questions about accessibility. It can be useful to make a food plan with your companions: make sure you set aside time to eat, and you may like to carry snacks during the con, too.

Radisson:

At the Radisson we have a number of food options. These include:

a) Lobby Cafe: offering various quick food options including sandwiches (£3.50) and baked potatoes (£5) and canned drinks (£1.50)

b) Steak and Lobster (formerly Trunk Restaurant): Offering a selection of convention meals for around £20.

c) Annayu Indian Restaurant: Open for dinner 18.30 to 22.00

d) Bijou Bar: does snacks and sandwiches as well as several Nine Worlds menu items including vegetarian and vegan options. Open 10:30am to 1:00am

e) Convention Bar outside the Commonwealth: offers drinks at 20% off, this bar only.

f) Room Service: The hotel will deliver room service anywhere 24 hours a day. Perfect for late night snacking.

1. a) Il Basilico: Italian (with some vegan options) Open 5:30pm to 10pm

b) also on this corner are two shops that sell snacks and sandwiches.

2. Three Magpies – Pub with pub food: Open 11:00am - 9:30pm

3. Renaissance:

a) Market Garden – European: Open for Breakfast and dinner

b) Starbucks: Open Breakfast and lunch (maybe until 7:30pm)

4. McDonalds: Open 24 hours

5. The Marriott has:

a) Tuscany Ristorante -- Italian: Open 6:00 PM to 10:30 PM.

b) Allie’s American Grille & Steakhouse: Open Breakfast: 6:00am -10:30am; Lunch: 12:00 noon - 2:30pm; Dinner: 5:30pm – 10:30pm

c) Starbucks: Open breakfast and Lunch

6. The Sheraton has:

a) Madhu’s Heathrow -- Indian/Kenyan Open 6pm to 11:30pm

b) Starbucks: Open 7am to 9pm

c) American-themed Sports Bar & Grill: Open 12pm to 12am

7. Pheasant Inn: Open 12noon to 10:30pm

8. Harlington Tandoori -- Indian: Open Lunch: 12.00 – 2.30 Dinner: 5.30 – 11.30

They will even come pick up groups for 4 or more from any hotel. Tel 020 8754 1414 or 020 8754 7711
Access

We are founded on the belief that geekdom should not be restricted by class, age, gender, sexuality, disability, ethnicity, or the ability to cite Wookieepedia in arguments, and we’re doing our best to create an accessible space. Please do let us know if there is anything we can do to make the convention more accessible and enjoyable for you.

Facilities
The Radisson Edwardian, Heathrow, has:
• step-free access
• accessible toilets
• gender neutral toilets
• designated quiet spaces
• car parking (free to Blue Badge holders)

We’re running as 75-minute sessions with 30-minute breaks, and attendees can enter and leave sessions as they like.

Access to main spaces:
• The lobby is large and moderately lit with hard floors and a small amount of seating. The Nine Worlds reception, hotel reception and concierge are all clearly signed.
• The main social space for Nine Worlds is in the atrium at the top of the building. Access from the lobby is by climbing 38 steps (with four landings) or by lift, accessed via a side corridor off the lobby. The atrium is naturally lit from a glass ceiling and consists of smaller self-contained areas, connected by walkways and shallow ramps.
• Most track rooms have double doors for entry, are artificially lit, and carpeted. The main restaurant and bar areas on the ground floor have smooth and hard floors, and have low to moderate lighting.
• Both main entertainments rooms are carpeted and accessed by double doors. They will also have induction loop systems in place.
• Accessible toilets are located on the ground floor: one for transfer from the left and one from the right. Each contains a washbasin and a grab rail. These toilets are gender neutral.
• Assistance animals are welcome in the hotel.

Priority Seating:
Disabled access seating is available in all sessions and clearly marked. If you are unable to stand for long, or have specific seating requirements, please request a Priority Access pass from the registration desk.

Please give up a priority seat to anyone displaying a pass, even if other seating is available. Please remember that not all disabilities are visible.

BSL:
We have a BSL interpreter at onsite. Please ask @9WAccess for a full list of signed panels and events.

About quiet spaces
Anyone can use our quiet spaces as places where no one will talk to or interact with them. Multiple people are welcome there, as long as they maintain that. Please don’t use these spaces for socialising.
• On the ground floor, private room 15 is a quiet space and families’ room. It has a single door, so may not be accessible for larger wheelchairs and scooters.
• On the third floor, private room 36 is a quiet space, and private room 37 is a families’ room. These are reached through several narrow doors, so may not be accessible to wheelchairs or scooters.
• We’re sorry there isn’t a better option for accessible quiet spaces - these are the best the hotel had. We’re working on finding better options for next year’s event.

Families/Badge Systems

For Families
Parents are welcome to breastfeed anywhere at the convention. This is in accordance with UK law: we will not tolerate the harassment of breastfeeding parents. If you’re harassed while breastfeeding, please do let a volunteer know, and we’ll deal with it. We’ve also marked room 15 on the ground floor, and room 37 on the third floor, as space for feeding (if you’d prefer) and changing. Families (and everyone else) are welcome to come in and out of sessions as required: we just ask that they be as quiet and respectful as they can whilst doing so.

All sessions welcome kids and teenagers: a minority are marked as 18+ or [Adult Content] in the guide. Our kids’ track is a whole bunch of dedicated content for kids (~under 12s) to enjoy with their families: see the kids’ programme, or the Kid-Friendly tag in the online schedule, for all the details.

We’re also not enforcing rules on mobile phones, as we know lots of our attendees are parents who may need to be called away: we just ask that attendees are respectful of this by only using phones if necessary, and answering them outside the room where possible.

Badge Systems
These systems are to help communicate your needs and preferences.

Communication Code
Colour coded badges may be used by anyone who finds social situations or communication overwhelming at times. If you would like to use them, please ask at the Info Desk in the Atrium.

Red badge: “Please don’t talk to me unless I talk to you first, or in an emergency.”

Yellow badge: “Please don’t talk to me unless I know you, talk to you first, or in an emergency.”

Blue badge: “I’d like it if you would start a conversation with me.”

My pronoun is...
You may want to use these badges to let people know which pronoun to use for you, be it one, zie, sie, hir, co, ey, they, she, he or anything else.

Hearing Protection
Ear plugs will be available from the Tech desks in the track rooms: just ask a volunteer.

If you experience any difficulties during Nine Worlds, talk to a volunteer or visit the info desk. You can also tweet @9WAccess for advice and information.
Rules/Code of Conduct

Rules, & Stuff To Note

1. Please wear your badge at all times, in plain sight. You need it to access convention spaces.

2. Bear in mind that we’re a family-friendly event: there’ll be kids around. Keep it PG-13.

3. We’re not responsible for lost, stolen or damaged property, or for injuries sustained during the convention. We can offer sympathy though.

4. We reserve the right to ask attendees to leave the convention without refund if they are behaving inappropriately, including if they’re excessively drunk.

5. Events and guests are subject to change and cancellation. We’ll do our best to warn you, but sometimes changes will happen without notice. Please keep an eye on @London_Geekfest Twitter for up-to-date info.

6. No camping in convention spaces: folks found sleeping in public spaces will be asked to move on to their hotel rooms, or offsite.

7. We love photos, but please ask your subjects for their permission first: it’s only polite. Some people will be wearing bright yellow no-photo lanyards - please do ensure you don’t photograph them, even if they’re in the background.

8. Under-16s must have an adult responsible for them at all times. Our kids’ track is intended for families to enjoy together: it’s emphatically not a crèche. Please leave your phone number with your kid in case they get lost (we don’t have an intercom), and bring lost kids to the Info Desk in the third floor atrium.

Code of Conduct

We’d like Nine Worlds to be an awesome, fun and safe space for everyone involved, so we’ve asked all ticket holders to agree to abide by this code of conduct as a condition of their attending the convention.

We’re taking this code very seriously - please do read it thoroughly. You can come to the Info Desk in the third floor atrium for help, or ask a volunteer wearing hi-vis, at any time during the convention. Be excellent to each other, and party on.

Anti-Harassment Policy

Nine Worlds is dedicated to providing a great convention experience for everyone, whatever their gender, sexuality, disability, physical appearance, body size, race or religion. For this reason, we will not tolerate any form of harassment of convention participants.

Attendees found to be engaging in harassment may be sanctioned or expelled from the con without refund.

Harassment can include:

- offensive verbal comments about gender, sexuality, impairment, physical appearance, body size, race or religion
- showing sexual imagery in public spaces
- intimidation, stalking or following
- photographing or recording someone without their permission
- sustained disruption of talks or other events
- uninvited physical contact
- uninvited sexual attention

Racial Harassment

We’d also particularly like to draw attention to some forms of racist harassment that folks of colour and non-white folks at geek events have spoken about, including:

- white people critiquing their cosplay choices without being asked
- being expected to be an authority on non-white characters in various shows or comics
- being talked down to or assumed to be less knowledgeable about topics being discussed.

What should I do if I am being harassed?

In some cases you may find the harassment stops if you clearly say ‘no’ or ‘please leave me alone’, or simply walk away. We would appreciate it if the Info Desk was still informed to help us identify any repeat offenders.

If you continue to be harassed, or notice someone else being harassed, please visit the Info Desk in the third floor atrium, or contact a convention volunteer with hi-vis or a Staff badge. Our volunteers can help participants contact venue security or otherwise assist those experiencing harassment to feel safe during the con.

If you need to call the police, we will support you. The Radisson have a good relationship with the local police, so if it can wait a few minutes, please speak to one of Nine Worlds' organisers or the volunteer wearing hi-vis and the @London_Geekfest Twitter for up-to-date info.

Costume and Weapons Policy

We love costumes at Nine Worlds, and are very much looking forward to seeing all your amazing cosplays! Here are the cosplay rules to help keep things fun and safe for everyone.

Costumes

1. Costumes must abide by our anti-harassment policy - they must not be offensive on the grounds of gender, sexuality, disability, physical appearance, body size, race or religion. This includes t-shirt slogans. We decide what’s offensive: please don’t debate with staff.

2. We’re a family-friendly event, with kids running around. Please keep it PG-13: no nudity, no excessive PDA, and don’t dress in overtly sexualised costumes. Please also be mindful of how gory or scary your costumes are, and don’t go around deliberately scaring kids.

Weapons

1. All weapons must be non-functional (ie. they can’t actually hurt anyone), and must look fake from at least three metres away. If they looks like they could possibly be dangerous in any way, weapons must be peace-bonded at registration. Absolutely no weapons that looks like real guns: remember we’re at Heathrow, and the police will take potential threats very seriously. As a guideline: the more costumed-up you are, the more forgiving hotel security will be regarding fake firearms. Stormtroopers with blasters: awesome! Street clothes with a black plastic toy pistol: problem.

2. Don’t aim weapons at people without their consent. If you’re posing for a photo, try aiming them skywards.
3. Don’t fire loaded, functioning projectile weapons outside of event-organised weapon-play sessions - this includes NERF guns, water pistols, silly-string guns, ping-pong pistols and more.

4. No metal bladed weapons. Non-metal bladed weapons should be blunt.

5. Absolutely no explosives: including, but not limited to, smoke powder, sparklers, and fireworks.

6. No play-fighting with prop weapons outside of event-organised weapon-play sessions.

Photography policy

Attendees
We’ll be taking lots of photos at the event, including crowd shots, which we’ll be using for publicity. If you don’t want to be photographed, please swap your lanyard for a bright yellow no-photo lanyard at the Registration Desk or the Info Desk, and wear it.

Photographers
Please ask your subjects for their permission first: it’s only polite. Some people will be wearing bright yellow no-photo lanyards - please do ensure you don’t photograph them, even if they’re in the background. We’d love to see your photos after the event: tweet us @London_Geekfest with a link, or tag them #nineworlds.

Cosplay Photographer
Courtesy of the Anime track, our cosplay photographer Pouncy will have a studio set up in the Atrium on Saturday and Sunday: please check times with the Anime track, or online.

Cosplay contest

We love cosplay at Nine Worlds: from the well-known to the obscure, and from the semi-professional to the last-minute cobbled-together. Cosplay rocks. We’re so excited to see yours. Check the Costumes and Weapons Policy on the previous page to make sure your cosplay doesn’t step on our boundaries, and if you take pictures, tag us @London_Geekfest or with #nineworlds so we can see it and enthuse at you!

The Contest
Here’s the plan for this year’s cosplay contest. It’ll be not-very-competitive, and non-hierarchical. We’ll be sorting out winners at the event. It’ll be social, and fun.

All attendees will get five “awesome cosplay!” tokens included in their goody bags. Please give a token to someone whose cosplay you like! (Thanks go to EasterCon for this idea: turns out that giving someone a “awesome cosplay!” token is a lovely way to have a friendly interaction.)

If you collect more than fifteen tokens, you’ve won a prize! Come to the Info Desk anytime, and exchange your tokens for a prize.

Also, kids in cosplay (all under 12s, plus under 16s who self-identify as kids for the purposes of this contest) get a prize simply for cosplaying. Just come to the Info Desk with your adult, in your cosplay.

Cosplayers Assemble! The Comics track will once again be providing last-minute costume rescue. Thursday night, 18:15 - 22:00, in Room 31.

Vendors

Full-Time Vendors
All weekend, in Commonwealth East.

- Forbidden Planet: Everyone’s favourite geeky superstore also hosting many signings.

Entertainment
Rocking out, quiz mastering, and more XP than you can shake a wand at.

Thursday
Thu 19:00 - Thu 21:00
Cheese & Cheese - eat cheese and read your guilty pleasures (with Food)
Room: Connaught
Nine Worlds is a safe place to express your love for anything. But sometimes we still find it hard to admit to our love for that pulp sci-fi novel, steamy bodice ripper or angst ridden vampire romp. We say ‘No more’! Come and eat our wide selection of delicious cheese and read us some of your favourite written cheese at our open mic. Adult content.

Thu 20:00 - Thu 22:00
Pub Quiz
Room: Royal-C&D
At Nine Worlds early and looking for something to break the ice? A way to mentally prepare yourself for the amazing weekend ahead? Our Thursday Night Pub Quiz is full of conundrums and brain teasers to challenge your mind, with prizes on the line.

Friday
Fri 18:00 - Fri 19:30
The Whedon Singalong - ...You will sing!
Room: County
The ever popular Whedon Sing-Along is back! We’ll work our way through “Once More with Feeling” and “Dr. Horrible’s Sing-Alone Blog”. Lyric books will be provided.

Fri 20:00 - Fri 21:00
Knightmare Live - Enter, stranger...
Room: Commonwealth
Welcome, Watchers of Illusion, to the Castle of Confusion! We’ll be risking all on our Friday night quest. Expect the unexpected, with riddles, magical characters, and hideous monsters...

Fri 22:00 - Sat 00:00
Geek Rave - With DJ Lum
Room: County
Lum normally spins hardcore, j-core and other genres ending in -core. Tonight she is doing all the geeky tracks she can’t get away with at a normal rave. Expect mixes based on gaming, anime, sci-fi and cheese!

Fri 22:00 - Sat 02:00
Rock Club London - Karaoke for the Gaming Generation
Room: Commonwealth
Powered by Rock Band 3 and Microsoft Xbox 360, Rock Club London is back by popular demand for its third year, bringing the long-running pub event to Nine Worlds on Friday night. Performance slots can be booked from 9:00pm outside Commonwealth, and will be in limited supply, so arrive early to make your choice and secure your spot on the stage!

Saturday
Sat 19:30 - Sat 21:30
The David Gemmell Awards for Fantasy
Room: County
The David Gemmell Awards for Fantasy began in 2009, with the aim of celebrating the best in fantasy fiction and commemorating one of its most legendary authors. The Awards continue to pursue their three aims – to raise public awareness of the Fantasy genre, to celebrate the history and cultural importance of Fantasy literature, and to appreciate and reward excellence in the field.

Sat 20:30 - Sun 01:00
Bifröst - Cabaret and Disco (LGBTQAI+)
Room: Commonwealth
Thor and Heimdall have used the Tesseract’s power to rebuild the Bifröst Queer Cabaret. Named for the shimmering, burning rainbow bridge of Norse legend, Bifröst is an unforgettable night of pop, rock, and fabulosity under the glittering chandeliers of Commonwealth. Join us afterwards for All The Dancing.

Sat 22:00 - Sat 23:30
Only a Moment - with Paul Cornell
Room: County
The popular quiz inspired by another popular quiz returns: Paul Cornell will guide his panelists through a myriad of subjects where they have to speak for a minute without deviation, repetition or pause.

Sunday
Sun 15:15 - Sun 16:30
The MMORPG Show - from the creators of “Knightmare Live”
Room: County-C&D
From the creators of Knightmare Live comes The MMORPG Show, a brand new stage show for 2015 combining improvised comedy with table top gaming in an epic, sprawling, open world, entirely made up fantasy quest of the audience’s own devising. Multiple players, multiple endings, and more XP than you can shake a wand at.

Sun 17:00 - Sun 18:15
Intro to Filk!
Room: County-C&D
An intro to Filk - a geeky music tradition that goes back to Science Fiction fandom of the 1950s (though it looks rather different these days!). Includes some interactive songs, followed by short concerts by some of the UK’s most talented filk musicians, Playing Rapunzel and Gwen Knighton Raftery.

Sun 18:30 - Sun 20:00:
“The Quiz at the End of the Con” Quiz
Room: County-C&D
So you’ve been to panels across multiple tracks, you’ve embraced a myriad of cultures and fandoms. You’ve partied until the early hours and made friends and bonds along the way. But what did you learn? Wrap up your Nine Worlds weekend with a Pub Quiz with a difference. It’s the perfect way to round out your weekend and walk away with some bonus swag!
Drama, movement, music and play, to help kids explore their world: all through the medium of fairytales, superheroes, and Doctor Who. All with Amy Hansford. More kids’ sessions available via the tracks: please see the kids’ programme, or the app, for details. All in Room 40.

Friday

Fri 11:45 - Fri 13:00
Hard Dorne By? - Was the show’s Dorne bowed, bent or broken?
Room: County-A
The 8th Kingdom, Dorne, was portrayed on its own term in season 5, after three seasons of gossip and a triumphant tease in the form of the Red Viper, Oberyn Martell. Issues of feminism, race and book faithfulness come to the fore in Dorne, come and share your thoughts, hopes, praise and criticism.

Fri 17:00 - Fri 18:15
Lemon Cakes and Courtesy - In Defence of Lady Sansa Stark
Room: Connaught-A
A critical examination of the way Sansa Stark is interpreted by fans of the books and show, with curator of The Geek Agenda, EK McAlpine. Looking at feminist readings of her character and development. Dairy-free lemon cakes provided. Bring your own direwolf.
Talk by EK McAlpine

Saturday

Sat 10:00 - Sat 11:15
Season 5 In Review - Have we forgiven them for teasing Benjen yet?
Room: 38
Season 5 was the season Game of Thrones was expected to go ‘beyond the books’, inasmuch as that’s possible. As we sum up the season, we ask: what were your highs and lows? We’ll dedicate time to the fore/fauxshadowing, and hopes for the future of the show. Join our panel to mourn or vent, coo over the excellence of Hardholme, and find out why they keep mistakenly calling Euron Daario.

Sat 11:45 - Sat 13:00
You Win or You Die - Exploring the excellent Game of Thrones Board Game
Room: 38
Fantasy Flight’s translation of the ASOIAF universe into board game form is both a wonderful game, and a remarkable capturing the series’ spirit. The passionate, inventive fan community has added to this, creating mods for different times, different factions, and even adding dragons into the mix. This session will demonstrate some of the mechanics of the game and mods.

Sunday

Sun 10:00, 15:15, 17:00
Game of Thrones session with TitanCon
Our friends from TitanCon will be returning with more Game of Thrones goodness. Check online for details.

Sun 13:30 - Sun 14:45
Roller Derby as Fanfiction Incarnate - arguing for and celebrating a fan’s sport (with Fanfic)
Room: 38
It's not ASOIAF, but it is awesome. In the early 2000s, the traditionally women-only sport of roller derby was resurrected, like a punky, feminist phoenix from its icky, exploitative, sexist ashes. This talk will cover the game's history, along with modern forms and quirks, and will discuss roller derby as a truly fan-built phenomenon, with all the best hallmarks of fanfiction. Join us afterwards for the Film Festival’s roller derby double bill.

Academia

Talks and panels celebrating geek culture and deconstructing the media we love.

Friday

Fri 10:00 - Fri 11:15
Near Futures - what we leave behind for others to find
Room: County-B
Everything we leave behind is part of the material culture of today. So what will future archaeologists (and maybe archaeologists from different species or planets) be able to tell about us?
Panel: Hellen Grunefeld, Fiona Coward

Fri 11:45 - Fri 13:00
Weird Pasts - the weird and wonderful things to dig up (with History)
Room: County-B
The archaeologists of speculative fiction are endlessly uncovering ancient, unspeakable evil, translating alien dialects and killing mummies. Here, archaeologists talk about their research on the weird, wild, and wonderful in the past and near future.

Fri 15:15 - Fri 16:30
Rebellion, Outsiders and Group Dynamics - three talks on outsiders and relations to authority
Room: County-B
Our speakers explore various ideas of difference, and how those differences colour perceptions of groups outside our own. Vorkosigan, Judge Dredd, and Battlestar Galactica.

Saturday

Sat 10:00 - Sat 11:15
Being a Geek Academic - what’s it like to be in academia?
Room: County-B
Find out how to become a geek in academia, and what makes all the struggle worthwhile.
Panel: Kelly Kanayama, Hellen Grunefeld

Sat 13:30 - Sat 14:45
Three Talks on Gaming Environments - LARP environments, mathematics of chance, and masochism (with Video Games Culture)
Room: County-B
A set of three talks examining gaming experiences from a variety of angles: LARP as education, choice and randomness, and the popularity of difficult games.

Sunday

Sun 09:00 - Sun 09:45
Dystopian London in Fiction - The Unreal City
Room: County-B
What happens when authors turn London into a dystopia, an imaginary place where everything is as bad as it could possibly be?
Talk by Vanessa Thompsett

Sun 10:00 - Sun 11:15
Story Translation and Archaeological Museums - changing environments, changing audiences
Room: County-B
Two talks on how audiences and media change stories: how stories change from one medium to another, and how different audiences may react to the same story.

Sun 13:30 - Sun 14:45
Social Science as Geek Play - interactive simulation of the science of human behaviour
Room: County-C&D
An interactive session exploring how geek play can push forward the frontiers of human knowledge. Increased self-awareness, fun, and new superpowers guaranteed.
With Alex Lamb

Panels, Parties, Launches

Friday

Fri 10:00 - Fri 11:15
Architecture of a great character
Room: 38
A good character can be timeless, but what does it take to build this character and what jigsaw pieces make up the things that make our characters live on?
Panel: Lucy Hounsom, Danie Ware, Liesel Schwarz, Leila Abu el Hawa, Al Robertson, Sebastien de Castell

Fri 11:45 - Fri 13:00
You’re In Our World Now - the invention of myths for a modern audience
Room: County-C&D
How are authors finding new and exciting ways to reinvent myths and fairy tales for the modern era, and where are there some stories we just can’t get enough of?
Panel: Emma Newman, Snorri Kristjansson, Pete Newman, Anna Caltabiano, Joanne Harris, Tom Pollock

Fri 13:30 - Fri 14:45
“IT’S ALIVE!” - creating a monster

Sat 11:45 - Sat 13:00
“And the Winner is…”
Room: Commonwealth-West
Does a shelf full of awards mean you sell a lot of books? Where recommendations and reviews are just a quick Google away, how important are awards?
Panel: Juliet McKenna, Lizzie Barrett, Glen Mehn, Del Lakin-Smith, Tom Hunter

Sat 13:30 - Sat 14:45
Fantasy vs. Science Fiction - The Big Nine Worlds Debate
Room: Commonwealth-West
The SFF punch-out returns for 2015, with heavyweight from the worlds of Fantasy and Science Fiction slug it out in defence of their genre, and an audience jury.
Panel: Anne Chamock, Rebecca Levene, Gareth L Powell, Joe Abercrombie, Anne Perry

Sat 15:15 - Sat 16:30
Death in Genre - “Death isn’t cruel, merely terribly, terribly good at his job.”
Room: Commonwealth-West
The personification of Death has taken every form, from pure horror in a robe, to a small woman with great make-up, to something in between who likes cats, curry and rides a horse called BINKY. What makes Death in genre so compelling?
Panel: Joe Abercrombie, Richard Ford, Paul Cornell, Jenni Hill, Sarah Lotz, Liz de Jager

Sat 09:00 - Sat 09:45
What makes Fantasy fantastic?
Room: County-C&D
Why is it that even people who don’t claim to like genre still love fantasy? They can’t get on board with magicians and dragons but they love LOTR, Harry Potter and Twilight. So what is it that makes fantasy so fantastic?
Panel: Tom Lloyd, Susan Murray, Stephen Deas, Sebastien de Castell, Lucy Hounsom, Anne Lyle

Sat 10:00 - Sat 11:15
The End of Author Mystique
Room: County-C&D
Do authors need to be on social media to sell books, and does an ability to tweet improve your chances of getting published?
Panel: Alasdair Stuart, Ed Cox, Kim Curran, Amy Alward, Michaela Gray

SFF punch-out returns for 2015, with heavyweights from the worlds of Fantasy and Science Fiction slug it out in defence of their genre, and an audience jury.

Friday

Fri 18:45 - Fri 20:00:
Will You Join In Our Crusade? - Protest in fiction and reality (with Creative Writing)
Room: Royal-A
Why do people empathise easier with a fictional rebel like Katniss Everdeen than with real protestors like the people of Ferguson? Helen Gould considers the differences in how the modern media portrays fictional and real-life rebellions, and why these differences exist. Talk by Helen Gould

Sat 09:00 - Sat 09:45:
Zombie Breakfast - A morning discussion of All Things Zombie
Room: County-A
We’ll pick our experts’ brains* on questions like: fast vs slow zombies? Is it wrong to murder someone with a chainsaw because they got a disease through no fault of their own? And is the boom in think pieces about whether the boom in zombies movies is finally over, finally over? Panel: Chris Farnell, Matt Wieteska, Laurie Penny, Anbara Khalidi, Ash Farbrother

Sat 10:00 - Sat 11:15:
Apocalypse Now and Then - how religion informs apocalyptic fiction (with Religion)
Room: County-A
Two talks: considering the origins of our ideas about apocalypses, and considering why Christian writers use narratives of apocalyptic science fiction for transmitting their ideas. Talks by Alex R., Anbara Khalidi

Saturday

Sunday

Sun 10:00 - Sun 11:15:
Disability and the Apocalypse
Room: County-A
The apocalypse in fiction is far too often an ableist fantasy, rife with vaguely eugenic themes and characters whose disabilities are shorthand signposts for corruption or decadence.

Sat 11:45 - Sat 13:00:
The Knowledge with Lewis Dartnell - The information we need to survive the apocalypse
Room: County-A
What key knowledge would you need to not only survive in the immediate post-apocalyptic aftermath, but avert another Dark Ages and accelerate the rebooting of civilisation from scratch? The Knowledge is a grand thought experiment on the behind-the-scenes fundamentals of how our world works, and what drove the progression of civilisation over the centuries. Talk by Dr. Lewis Dartnell

Sat 15:15 - Sat 16:30:
Ragnarok! - The Nine Worlds Apocalypse Survival Committee
Room: County-C&D
Come to this panel if you want to live! Of all the sessions being run at Nine Worlds this year, only one will help if the apocalypse strikes right now. How will we fortify the hotel against zombies, robots and looters? How will we ration out the contents of everyone’s minibars among the survivors? And most importantly, what kind of society will Nine Worlds 2015 build in the ashes of the old world? Panel: Chris Farnell, Lewis Dartnell, Lydia Nicholas, Matt Wieteska, Caitlin Blanchard, Laurie Penny
Apocalypse/Comics

Meanwhile, in the event of an actual apocalypse, people with disabilities may have life experiences that would make them a vital part of any survivorist compound.
Panel: Paul Hawkins, Caitlin Blanchard, Janet Edwards, Mike Brooks

Sun 13:30 - Sun 14:45: Stories, Science & Averting the Apocalypse - A Nesta Anthology launch
Room: County-A
How does apocalyptic fiction interplay with real-world responses to potential catastrophe? Do narratives of explosive end-times undermine efforts to recognise and deal with the slow, exhausting, complicated reality of threats to our species and society? We talk to scientists, authors, sociologists, and civil servants about the place of stories and speculation in educating and engaging people about averting the end of the world.
Panel: Brigitte Nerlich, Lydia Nicholas, Josh Ryan-Saha, Paul Graham-Raven, Scott Smith, Jenni Hill

Comics

Comics and manga creators, critics and fans discuss, dissect and build graphic narratives.

Thursday
Thu 18:15 - Thu 22:00: Cosplayers Assemble! - last-minute costume rescue: help, support and chat to finish your cosplay - Room: 31
We’ll be spending Thursday evening helping you finish your costume: drop in in for a chat and a chance to make final tweaks. We’ll have supplies, fizzy drinks, and a friendly space.
Workshop with Hazel Southwell and Elly Frances

Friday
Fri 11:45 - Fri 13:00: Zine Making Workshop - make quick comics and explore zines
Room: 11
Join us to make quick comics and explore the idea of zines, for fast creativity in a relaxed, social environment. We’ll explore the importance of going beyond tropes or tokenism in representing LGBTQAI+ characters in comics, and the particular wins or difficulties that come from a graphic medium.
Workshop and social

Fri 13:30 - Fri 14:45: How To Break Into Comics: but seriously, how?
Room: 11
It’s the FAQ asked most frequently at any comics event: how do you perform the magic manoeuvre of getting in? Industry professionals from all sides talk the mechanics of pitches, webcomics, finding an artist or writer or colourist, what even is a Cintiq, and how are comics formed?
Panel: Sally Jane Thompson, Ed Fortune, Alasdair Stuart, Hazel Southwell

Fri 15:15 - Fri 16:30: Representative Drawing for Graphic Narrative - How to draw the comics that look like you - Room: Connaught-A
What is a representative drawing? When do you draw yourself as a badger? How do spines really work? Artists, models, and all the paper and pens you could want, interrogate writing and drawing.
Workshop with Howard Hardiman, Sarah Gordon, Maki Yamazaki, Natalie Wilkinson, Hazel Southwell, Sally Jane Thompson

Fri 18:45 - Sat 00:00: Tabletop Gaming Evening - Join us for a relaxed evening of board games
Room: 31
An evening of quiet, social board gaming; drop in or out to join us for a game or two. Feel free to bring games or just come along, as we’ll be bringing plenty ourselves, as well as fizzy pop and friendliness.
Social and gaming

Fri 20:30 - Fri 21:45: Be Weird, ‟????, Get Deals - Improve your life with dystopian Twitter birthday fiction - Room: Royal-B
Nathan Crowley spent the first third of 2015 writing thousands of words to his friend, Daniel Barker, on Twitter, about a dystopian birthday universe. Now, he’s been commissioned for a novel. This talk will explore why social play and strange jokes can be the parents of extreme creativity.
Talk by Nathan Crowley

Saturday
Sat 10:00 - Sat 11:15:
Show, Don’t Tell: Wordless Comics - Why make wordless comics? What do they represent?
- Room: Connaught-A
From sign-language to space to animal speech, why make wordless comics and why are they so effective?
Panel: Howard Hardiman, Sarah Gordon, Kieron Gillen, Sally Jane Thompson, Stephen Lacey

Sat 13:30 - Sat 14:45: How the Comics Code Ruined Comics Twice - The heroes we need, not the stories we deserve
- Room: 11
The Comics Code restricted comics content in the US, or for the US market, from 1954 until the turn of the millennium, famously censorious and based on extremely poor research. But what did it do to the narrative of comics?
Panel: Kelly Kanayama, Charlotte Geater, Roz Kaveney, Magnus Anderson, Ed Fortune

Sat 15:15 - Sat 16:30:
Magical Girls 4eva - The mystical feminine, from cave walls to Comixology [Adult Content] - Room: Connaught-A
Commencing with a lightning-fast survey, by artist and art historian Howard Hardiman, of the mystical feminine in the European history of art, and going from hand-paintings in caves and a visit to the temples of Hellenic Greece, we’ll chart the history of magical women in narrative art.
Adult content.
Panel: with Howard Hardiman, T Walpole, Sally Jane Thompson, Harriet Greene, Charlotte Geater

Sat 17:00 - Sat 18:15:
Comics Talk Three-Parter
Room: 11
Charlotte Geater creates a history of American comics through colouring, Lauren McPhee argues for a politics of superhero continuity, and Tony Keen looks at some semi-forgotten superhero comics of the early ‘80s.

Sat 18:45 - Sat 20:00:
Drawing Dinner: Food and Comics - Noodles to pizza, why is eating so evocative?
- Room: Connaught-A
Manga is full of food-as-feeling, from domesticity to ceremony. Why does a drawing of the steam rising from hot soup work? What’s the language of food?
Panel: Kieron Gillen, Charlotte Geater, Zoe Burgess, Hazel Southwell

Sat 20:30 - Sat 21:45:
Laika biting Thanos: Galactic Comics - five
Sunday

Sun 09:00 - Sun 09:45: Why Have Representative Space Deities? - Or, 'yes, it matters: the unreal is diverse'
Room: 11
A relaxed, breakfast-time chat about the importance of a diverse fantastic in a graphic medium.
Social and roundtable discussion

Sun 10:00 - Sun 11:15: Queerness, Comics and Visibility - LGBTQAI+ characters in graphic narrative (with LGBTQAI+)
Room: Connaught-B
We'll explore the importance of going beyond tropes or tokenism in representing LGBTQAI+ characters in comics, and the particular wins or difficulties that come from a graphic medium.
Panel: T. Walpole, Maki Yamazaki, and more

Sun 11:45 - Sun 13:00: The Humanitarian Element: Superhero Ethics - Heroism, compromise & the reality of intervening under fire
Room: 11
BANG! POW! ZAP! None of these things cures multiple-drug-resistant tuberculosis. The type of humanitarianism depicted in superhero comics tends to have solutions, often ones that require an ethical breach for a heroic end. With the popular hunger for these stories at an all-time high, what does this disconnect mean?
Panel: Alasdair Stuart, Stephen Lacey, David Tallerman, Roz Kaveney, Hazel Southwell

Sun 13:30 - Sun 14:45: The Many Roads Into Comics - Four creators discuss their way into graphic narrative
Room: Connaught-A
Comics creators talk about how they got to where they are, and why they made the choices they did in shaping their careers. How much of it is luck? How much can you influence the process?
Panel: Adam Christopher, Paul Cornell, Emma Vieceli, Maki Yamazaki

Talk by Natasha Burton

Fri 15:15 - Fri 16:30 "Yes, I Said: Yes, I Will, Yes" - exploring the enthusiastic & erotic
Room: Royal-A
As erotica and sexual fantasy starts to hit the bestseller list, the question for every writer is this: how do I ensure my writing embodies and celebrates enthusiastic consent? Adult content.
Panel: Quen Took, Anna Sky, Charlie Forrest, Sophie Sparham

Fri 17:00 - Fri 18:15 Fear and Writing
Room: Royal-A
Are you struggling to write the first draft of your novel? Are you researching endlessly but not actually writing the book? Explore the reasons they're not getting that book written.
Talk by Emma Newman

Fri 18:45 - Fri 20:00 Will You Join In Our Crusade? - protest in fiction and reality (with Apocalypse)
Room: Royal-A
Why do people empathise easier with a fictional rebel like Katniss Everdeen than with real protestors like the people of Ferguson? Helen Gould will consider the differences in how the modern media portrays fictional and real-life rebellions, and why these differences exist.
Talk by Helen Gould

Sat 10:00 - Sat 11:15 Two Talks - Manipulative Bastards and Believable Clerics
Room: Royal-A
Our panel discusses the trials and pitfalls of collaborative writing, examining why people write together, and the best techniques and technologies to use.

Panel: James Wallis, Grant Howitt, Mary Hamilton, Matt Johnson, Tom Kitchin

Doctor Who

All of time and space, via police telephone box.

Friday
Fri 11:45 - Fri 13:00
The Doctor Changed Your Life - how did that happen?
Room: Royal-C&D
What influence, large or trivial, has Doctor Who had on your life? Has it changed how you see the world? What has your experience been of the fandom? What does being a fan of Doctor Who mean to you?
Panel: Simon Guerrier, Amy, Sarah Groenewegen, Hamish Steele

Fri 15:15 - Fri 16:30
The Companions - they save the universe a lot
Room: Royal-C&D
Which companions worked best, and which ones fell by the wayside? Who's under-rated and who deserved a run of seven years? What companion storylines have been the most compelling? And who would we like to see onscreen next?
Panel: Alex Fitch, Amy, Llin, Kari Sperring

Fri 18:45 - Fri 20:00
Science! Why does it matter?
Room: Royal-C&D
Does getting the science right matter? Can we forgive the moon being a giant space dragon egg? Why doesn’t the Doctor call himself a scientist these days? Has the science, or lack of, in Doctor Who inspired or disappointed you?
Panel: Duncan Lawie, Abigail Brady, Simon Guerrier, Marek Kukula

Sat 13:30 - Sat 14:45
The Peter Capaldi Era - new kidneys, and a Scottish accent
Room: Royal-C&D
The newest Doctor is older, crankier, and - for some fans - better looking than any other New Who Doctor. He also has one of the most complicated relationships with his companion. How has this past year of Doctor Who worked out for our panellists?
Panel: Duncan Lawie, Una McCormack, L. M. Myles, Adrian Tchaikovsky

Sat 17:00 - Sat 18:15
Doctor Who and Transhumanism - what are we so afraid of?
Room: Royal-C&D
The Cybermen, the Daleks, the Fish People, the Wirrn, Cassandra… these Doctor Who antagonists have one thing in common: they portray humanity changing from its humanoid state as something horrifying. Why do the villains of Doctor Who so often take away our human bodies? What are we afraid of, and should Doctor Who be able to look beyond that fear?
Doctor Who/Fanfic

Panel: Sarah Groenewegen (mod), Paul Cornell, Una McCormack, Adrian Tchaikovsky

Sun 10:00 - Sun 11:15
The Books of Doctor Who - just how many are there anyway?
Room: Royal-C&D
Over the past fifty years there’ve been a truly terrifying number of Doctor Who books published. What great stories can be found in Doctor Who books? How have the books influenced your views of Doctor Who?
Panel: Simon Guerrier, Adam Christopher, Paul Cornell, Sarah Groenewegen

Sun 11:45 - Sun 13:00
Is History a Science? - the view from Doctor Who (with History)
Room: County-C&D
Is history a science? In their book, “The Scientific Secrets of Doctor Who”, authors Simon Guerrier and Marek Kukula address this question, looking at how history functions in the world of Doctor Who. In conversation with Tony Keen, they will explore these issues further.

Sun 17:00 - Sun 18:15
The Top 5 Who Stories - chosen to be saved from destruction
Room: Royal-C&D
There’s been a disaster in the space/time vortex! All of Doctor Who is about to be destroyed. Only our panellists can save five stories. Which five will they be and why?
Panel: Amy, Adam Christopher, Laurie Penny, Katherine Jay

Saturday

10:00 - 11:15:
We Are And Always Will Be - Star Trek Fans and Fandom - Room: Royal-B

What does it mean to be a Star Trek fan? How has being a fan of Star Trek changed over the years? Our panel of fans talk about their own experiences in fandom, Star Trek’s rich fannish history, and the impact that Star Trek fandom has had on the wider world.

15:15 - 16:45:
LARP: The Prime Directive - A Star Trek Crew on Trial (with LARP) - Room: 40

Your presence is required for the Starfleet Court Martial of a Starship crew. Together, the witnesses will use the holodeck to reconstruct the events that led them here. Use collaborative improvisation to tell the story of the conflicts experienced by a Star Trek crew on a mission.

Game, with Rei Hampden-Turner and Hanbury Hampden-Turner

Sunday

11:45 - 13:00:
All These Worlds Are Yours - Star Trek worldbuilding - Room: Royal-B

Star Trek gives us grand political experiments, galaxy-spanning empires, romances and revolutions. This panel looks at the cracks in between the big ideas. What’s a credit chip and how does everyone do without money? With telepaths around, how do you keep a secret? And how many public toilets does the Enterprise need, anyway?
Panel: Iona Sharma, Katie Rathfelder, LM Myles, Una McCormack

13:30 - 14:45:
The Future of Star Trek - Where is the franchise boldly going next? - Room: Royal-B

Since Star Trek began in 1966, it has grown and changed to reflect - and often challenge - the priorities and values of the world around it. What’s next for Star Trek?
Panel: John Allen, Val Nolan and more

Supernatural

18:45 - 20:00:
Star Trek: The Expanded Universe - An exploration of Star Trek tie-in media - Room: Royal-B

Journalist Ed Fortune talks to bestselling tie-in authors Una McCormack and James Swallow about their work, the worlds beyond the televised adventures, and how tie-ins add to the tapestry of the Star Trek universe.

Saturday

11:00 - 15:00:
Monsterhearts: A Buffy-Style Roleplaying Game - make stories about teenage monsters’ messy lives! - Room: Commonwealth-East

High school sucks when you’re a vampire! Together we’ll be creating our own unique teenage monstrous denizens of a supernatural high school, be they Vampire, Werewolf, or Chosen One. Then we tell the story of their interconnected lives. Let the cliques, jealousy and supernatural hormones commence! May explore adult themes, sexual content, and angst. Lots of angst. Drop in at any time between 11am and 3pm.

Sunday

11:00 - 15:00:
Adventure Time Improv Game - Make stories about the world of Adventure Time! - Room: Commonwealth-East

What time is it? ADVENTURE TIME! Together we’ll be improvising short stories set in the Adventure Time universe. Create a unique character to play: be a bear, a bee, a breakfast person or whatever you want! Then travel together across the mysterious land of Ooo. The game will be very rules-light and lots of fun. Suitable for all ages. Drop in at any time between 11am and 3pm.
Supernatural/Tolkien

Sunday

Sun 09:00 - Sun 09:45:
Good vs. Evil - Room: County-A
Love the show, but hate how it handles certain issues? Here is your chance to get it off your chest. This interactive workshop and discussion gives fans a chance to share what they really feel. Hosted by Clara

Sun 11:45 - Sun 13:00:
Monsters and Theology (with Religion) - Room: County-A
From Frankenstein to Dracula and more, monsters in literature and popular culture can represent our deepest fears and spiritual concerns.
Talk by Jon Greenaway

Sun 15:15 - Sun 16:30:
Pop Quiz: “I Don't Get That Reference” - With prizes! - Room: County-A
Pop Quiz! Win prizes for recognising the geeky nods Supernatural contains. A music round, name that quote, and extra points on offer for SPN cosplay. Round off the weekend triumphant, or come for the LOLS. Teams can be up to 4 people, answer sheets and registration at the session.
Facilitated by Clara and Kevin.

Sun 17:00 - Sun 18:15:
Reading The Hobbit - Storytelling - Room: Connaught-B
We all remember the first time we read The Hobbit, but we bet you’ve never read it like this. Cuddle up and join our round-robin bedtime story session, as we wind down at the end of an exciting weekend.
Facilitated by Quen Took

Friday

Fri 10:00 - Fri 11:15:
Fellowship of Fans - Expanding Tolkien's universe to a diverse fellowship - Room: Connaught-B
Middle Earth is a magical place to be – as long as you’re white, male, straight, cis, and able-bodied. Can a fellowship of fans expand that universe, making it welcoming to those of us who can’t find ourselves in the original series? We discuss the power of adaptation, fanfiction, and headcanon in Tolkien’s universe.

Saturday

Sat 17:00 - Sat 18:15:
Beginning The Legendary Tales - Room: Connaught-B
The one writing workshop to rule them all. After a discussion, we will devise our cast of characters – be they Elves of colour, queer orcs, non-binary dwarves, or a fantastical combination of the three – and expand the Tolkien universe by writing our own very own Middle Earth ballad for a modern age.
Workshop with Quen Took

Sunday

Sun 15:15 - Sun 16:30:
Reading The Hobbit - Storytelling - Room: Connaught-B
We all remember the first time we read The Hobbit, but we bet you’ve never read it like this. Cuddle up and join our round-robin bedtime story session, as we wind down at the end of an exciting weekend.
Facilitated by Quen Took

Video Games Culture

Friday

Fri 10:00 - Fri 11:15:
Access All Areas - Disability, games and good design - Room: 11
Do our attitudes toward ‘play’ stand in the way of accessible games, and can game design evolve and adapt to be more inclusive? Exploring the assumptions about games, gamers and disability, and how play can be better for everyone.
Panel: Hannah Bunce, Maki Yamazaki, Ian Hamilton

Saturday

Sat 15:15 - Sat 16:30:
The Rise of eSports - The good, the bad and the toxic - Room: 11
Drawing crowds of millions and prize pools worth tens of millions, there’s no doubt that esports have become a big thing. We take a look at what’s driving the recent popularity of esports and their relation to traditional sports.
Panel: Mat Jones, Emily Gera, Jake Tucker

Sat 18:45 - Sat 20:00:
Intro to Interactive Fiction - The community, culture and basics of Twine (with Creative Writing) - Room: 11
As with all mediums, games benefit from the work of many creators. Twine helps: it’s simple to use and great for making interactive fiction: we’ll show you how to get started with it.
Panel: Gemma Thomson, Mary Hamilton, Maki Yamazaki, George Buckenham

Sat 20:30 - Sat 21:45:
VideoBrains - 9 minutes; 9 talks; 9 worlds! - Room: 11
VideoBrains is a monthly event which hosts an evening of talks about any and all aspects of making, playing and generally enjoying games. This edition features 9 microtalks, each just 9 minutes in length!
Hosted by Jake Tucker
Video Games Culture/Whedon

Sunday

- 15:15 - 16:30: Relationships in Games - Influences from tabletop role-playing
  - Room: 11
  - Games are making an increased effort to create interesting, multi-faceted characters who have involved, nuanced relationships with each other. But there’s still a way to go.
  - Panel: Ben Meredith, Helen Gould, Meg Jayanth, Ashley Brown

- 18:45 - 20:00: Imaginary Museums - Make-believe exhibitions for game design and culture (with Social Gaming)
  - Room: 40
  - Join museum curators, designers and critics to consider how contemporary games could find a space in places used to exhibiting things on white walls and in glass cases.
  - Panel: Sophia George, Rob Morgan, Marie Foulston, Holly Gramazio

Friday

- 10:00 - 11:15: Why Whedon Matters - A self-indulgent analysis to validate our obsession
  - Room: Royal-C&D
  - We’ll be kicking off first thing again this year with a talk about the finer details of the Whedonverse. Always a discussion starter, and a favourite of the Whedon track, so start the weekend off right!
  - Talk by Shane Davis

- 13:30 - 14:45: Female Weapons in the Whedonverse
  - Room: Royal-C&D
  - The Whedonverse is full of young women who were turned into human weapons, often without their consent by sinister patriarchal forces. This session will examine to what extent these women succeed in escaping from or subverting the roles set out by the men who ‘weaponised’ them.
  - Talk by Eve Bennett

- 18:00 - 19:30: The Whedon Singalong - ...You will sing!
  - Room: County
  - The ever-popular sing-a-long is back. We’ll work our way through ‘Once More With Feeling’ and ‘Dr.Horrible’s Sing-A-Long Blog’. Lyric books will be provided.

Saturday

- 10:00 - 11:15: Listen Well - Sound, silence, and superheroes in the Whedonverse
  - Room: Royal-C&D
  - Sound can resonate with its audience more intimately than any other sensory experience. This session will map the importance of soundscapes in Whedon’s multiverse, and focus particularly on the ways non-synchronic, unmusical sounds shape our perceptions of his superheroes, Scooby gangs, and time-bomb teams.
  - Talk by Briony Frost

- 17:00 - 18:15: Craft your Geekery
  - Room: 31
  - Write it, shoot it, publish it, crochet it, sauté it, whatever: make it! A relaxed session with a range of crafts to show your love of Whedon and geekery in general.

- 18:45 - 20:00: Brain of Knitain - A crafty, geeky quiz
  - Room: 40
  - Topics include fibrecrafts, baking and general geeky knowledge. Bring your friends and compete against other teams for fabulous prizes!
  - Quizmaster: Mark Madeley

Whedon/Yarn Craft/YA

Sunday

- 13:30 - 14:45: Beyond the Binary - gender and sexuality in YA (with LGBTQAI+)
  - Room: 38
  - More and more non-traditional characters enter the YA stage. How does YA explore these new stories, who are the characters we should be paying attention to, and what is there still to come?
  - Panel: Tom Pollock, Emma Trevayne, Sarah Benwell, Lauren E James, James Dawson, Laura Lam, Marieke Nijkamp

- 18:45 - 20:00: Imaginary Museums - Make-believe exhibitions for game design and culture (with Social Gaming)
  - Room: 40
  - Join museum curators, designers and critics to consider how contemporary games could find a space in places used to exhibiting things on white walls and in glass cases.
  - Panel: Sophia George, Rob Morgan, Marie Foulston, Holly Gramazio

- 20:30 - 21:45: Fireside Chat - In conversation with Meg Jayanth
  - Room: 11
  - Our usual, end-of-con wind-down session returns! After a hard weekend of geekery, come hear Jenni Goodchild chat with Meg Jayanth about… well, whatever they want to talk about, really. Hopefully some of that will be games.

- 20:30 - 21:45: Relationship in Games - Influences from tabletop role-playing
  - Room: 11
  - Games are making an increased effort to create interesting, multi-faceted characters who have involved, nuanced relationships with each other. But there’s still a way to go.

The Midnight Society - are you afraid of the dark? -
Room: Connaught-A
Haunted houses. Ghastly murders. Horror is making a comeback in YA. Are you afraid of the dark? Join our storytellers as they talk about the tricks of the trade and try to out-scare each other telling spooky ghost stories.
Storytellers: James Dawson, Frances Hardinge, Sarah Lotz, Savannah Lotz

Saturday
Sat 10:00 - Sat 11:15:
Fantastic Worlds - and where to find them
Room: Connaught-B
Making up an entirely new world can be complex, frustrating, and a lot of fun. Join these master worldbuilders as they discuss their worldbuilding process, the challenges they faced, and any tips they have for writers creating their own worlds.
Panel: Emma Trevayne, Joe Abercrombie, Marieke Nijkamp, Amy Alward

Sun 10:00 - Sun 11:15:
Once Upon a YA - lore and legends in YA literature
Room: 38
In many YA books, especially the speculative ones, storytelling plays an important role. Whether real or fictional, legends, folklore, mythology all give meaning and depth to a world and to characters. But how are legends born? What role do stories play within stories?
Panel: Mel Salisbury, Liz de Jager, Tom Pollock, Marieke Nijkamp, Frances Hardinge

Sun 13:30 - Sun 14:45:
Growing Up Without A Reflection - Finding heroes as a young nerd of colour (with Race & Culture)
Room: Connaught-B
Discussing the importance of characters of colour in children’s and YA media.
Panel: Nyla Ahmad, Natalia Mole, Shaki Obadina, Georgiana Jackson-Callen, Adrian Hon

Sun 15:15 - Sun 16:30:
I Predict a Riot - YA perspectives of the future
Room: 38
From near-future science fiction to harrowing dystopias, the YA vision of the future isn’t always a cheerful one. Are the stories we tell of a brave new world or a bleak new world? And what does that say for our main characters and our readers?
Panel: Kim Curran, James Smythe, Francesca Haig
